Curriculum Library on Employee Ownership

As many of our readers know, the Employee Ownership Foundation provides scholars and university professors with funding to conduct research on ESOPs and employee ownership. As part of this ongoing work to encourage colleges and universities to incorporate employee ownership information into curriculums, we would like to share a link to the Curriculum Library on Employee Ownership, or CLEO, on the Caseplace.org website which is an online, searchable library of teaching and background materials on employee ownership. Caseplace.org is administered by The Aspen Institute's Center for Business Education.

In addition to teaching modules, the site contains policy and issue reports, working papers, journal articles, interviews, and case studies.

For more information or to browse current research, please visit - <http://www.caseplace.org/CLEO>.

Did you know...

- 90% of Association members offer a supplemental benefit plan in addition to the ESOP including, 401(k) plans, pension plans, and profit sharing plans.
- 78% of Association members advertise the fact they are employee owned.
- Approximately 65% of ESOP Association members report that their ESOPs have been in place for 10 years or more.
